United Nations ST/IC/2006/57

Secretariat

19 December 2006

Information circular*

To: Members of the staff

From: The Assistant Secretary-General for Human Resources Management

Subject: 2007 competitive examination for Arabic interpreters

1. The purpose of the present information circular is to invite applications from staff members of the Secretariat at the P-3 level and below who wish to take the competitive examination for Arabic interpreters in 2007, in accordance with the provisions of ST/AI/1998/7 of 23 March 1998. Immediate vacancies are expected in the Interpretation Services in New York and Nairobi.

2. A competitive examination for Arabic interpreters will tentatively be held on 26 and 27 March 2007 in New York, Geneva, Cairo and other locations, as necessary, according to the number and location of qualified candidates invited to take the examination and the availability of necessary technical equipment. The purpose of this examination is to establish a roster from which present and future vacancies for Arabic interpreters will be filled.

3. The examination is open to staff members of the United Nations at the P-3 level and below who meet the eligibility requirements, as well as to qualified external candidates. Staff members from subsidiary organs of the United Nations and staff members whose service is limited to a particular organ, fund or programme of the United Nations or special mission are considered external candidates for the purpose of this examination. Staff members who pass the examination and are selected for inclusion in the roster will be assigned to fill vacancies as they occur. Successful candidates will be expected to take up their functions as required by the needs of the Organization, specifically in the duty stations where vacancies are located. Assignments are subject to rotation and interpreters may thereafter be called upon to serve at other duty stations according to the needs of the Organization. Interpreters are expected to serve a minimum of five years in a language post. The assignment of staff members of the United Nations who are successful in the examination and are selected to fill vacancies will be subject to the conditions set out in paragraphs 12 through 14 below.

* Expiration date of the present information circular: 31 December 2007.

4. Staff members of the Secretariat applying for the examination must:

(a) Have Arabic as their main language;[1]

(b) Have a perfect command of Arabic and an excellent knowledge of English or French. The Board of Examiners, appointed by the Assistant Secretary-General for Human Resources Management, requires that candidates' claims to knowledge of official languages must be supported by relevant documentation in their official status files;

(c) Hold a degree from a university or institution of equivalent status at which Arabic is the language of instruction and have experience as conference interpreters or work experience in the fields of translation, editing, verbatim reporting or other related fields. Alternatively, candidates must hold a university degree from a recognized school of interpretation. The Board of Examiners may, at its discretion, admit a candidate graduating from a university whose principal language of instruction is other than Arabic, provided that he/she has adequate secondary educational qualifications from an establishment at which the principal language of instruction is Arabic.

5. In order to meet the Organization's need to recruit staff for language posts who will serve for a reasonable period of time before reaching retirement age, staff members who do not serve on 100-series appointments and who are over the age of 56 by the deadline for submission of applications (5 February 2007) will not be eligible to sit for the examination. There is no age limit for full-time staff members serving on 100-series appointments.

6. The requirement for a university degree from a university or institution of equivalent status mentioned in paragraph 4 (c) above may be waived for staff members who, in the judgement of the Board of Examiners, have adequate post-secondary educational qualifications from a university or institution of equivalent status and adequate secondary educational qualifications from an establishment at which the principal language of instruction is Arabic, in addition to five years of continuous service with the United Nations Secretariat by 31 December 1989.

7. All applications will be reviewed by the Board of Examiners. In instances where a large number of applications are received, the Board reserves the right to admit to the examination only the most qualified candidates, based on a review of their qualifications that are over and above the minimum criteria set out in paragraph 4 above. All applicants will be notified of the Board's decision in respect of their application. Convoked candidates may be required to submit evidence of degrees and/or relevant experience prior to the interview. The Board's decisions are final.

8. For candidates with a perfect command of English, and with Arabic as a main language, the examination will consist of two parts:

(a) Simultaneous interpretation into Arabic from recordings of three speeches delivered in English (approximately 5 to 10 minutes per recording);

(b) Simultaneous interpretation into English from recordings of three speeches delivered in Arabic (approximately 5 to 10 minutes per recording).

9. For candidates with a perfect command of French, and with Arabic as a main language, the examination will consist of two parts:

(a) Simultaneous interpretation into Arabic from recordings of three speeches delivered in French (approximately 5 to 10 minutes per recording);

(b) Simultaneous interpretation into French from recordings of three speeches delivered in Arabic (approximately 5 to 10 minutes per recording).

10. On the basis of the results of this examination, the Board of Examiners will invite selected candidates to an interview. The Board will interview the selected candidates to assess general interest, professional experience, knowledge of the United Nations and of current events, personality, willingness to serve at any duty station, adaptability to the prevailing working conditions in the Arabic Interpretation Section and, in particular, ability to work as a member of a team. The interview is an integral part of the examination. Therefore, candidates who are invited for an interview should not assume that they will be offered an assignment.

11. On the basis of the overall results of the examination, the Board will recommend to the Assistant Secretary-General for Human Resources Management the names of candidates who qualify for inclusion in the roster. All candidates admitted to the examination will be informed in writing of the Board's final recommendation in respect of their candidature. The Board's recommendations are not subject to appeal. The Board does not release individual scores/results.

12. Staff members selected to fill vacancies will be assigned as Arabic interpreters for a trial period of two years. Staff members at the P-1 level or below will receive a special post allowance to the P-2 level. Staff members at the P-2 and P-3 levels will be assigned at their respective levels.

13. Staff members with a special post allowance to the P-2 level and those already at the P-2 level who complete the trial period successfully and are recommended by the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management and the Office of Human Resources Management will be promoted to the P-3 level. Staff members already at the P-3 level who complete the trial period successfully will be confirmed in their interpretation functions at the P-3 level. Staff members who do not complete the trial period successfully will be reassigned to posts at their previous levels and the special post allowance, if any, will be discontinued.

14. In order to service meetings of the Security Council or the General Assembly, interpreters are often called upon to work outside of normal working hours, including weekends and holidays.

15. Staff members applying for the examination should complete the attached form and submit it, together with their Personal History Profile (PHP) or P.11 form, no later than 5 February 2007, to:
